

NORDIC BALTIC SUB-REGION (NBSR)
Proposal to the 28th ISGF World Conference

The NSGF's of Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden propose that the following is included in the Action Plan 2017-2020:

When our founder Lord Baden-Powell defined the essential principles of scouting, he included Creation and Nature. We live using nature, therefore it is our duty to protect it.

Air, water and earth are indispensable elements for life, which must be defended in all the forms in which it is revealed.

The protection of nature is not only essential on a global level, it is as important locally in our everyday lives and actions.

Therefore, we propose that the adult Scouts and Guides movement, in each country where it is active, should strive to identify, analyze, exchange ideas and cooperate with other local organizations that are involved with environmental issues and to promote and work for:

- local activities towards responsible environment protection
- the best possible protection of nature
- the development of environmental sustainability
- activating Fellowship members to learn about nature and to have own projects to save the environment

The goal of this action is to sensitize and involve as well the Guilds as local authorities, to prompt them to act accordingly.
