

LET FRIENDSHIP AND UNITY BE A BRIDGE FOR A STRONGER WORLD

NEWSLETTER #4

September 9, 2019

To all the delegations:

In just a week, we will all be meeting in New York for the 2nd Western Hemisphere Conference. Please don't forget the following:

Those who have made arrangements with CASEGHA, will be picked-up at the airports upon arrival, according to the transportation information that was sent out.

You can wear your group's uniform every day during the sessions but most especially for the official opening and closing ceremonies.

For the welcoming and farewell dinners, the dress code will be casual to casual-chic or fancy as you prefer. A sweater or a shawl is recommended for the evening dinner cruise on the Hudson River: Manhattan by night.

Do not forget your flags, your flash drives or USB sticks as well as the articles to be sold at the International Market.

There will be daily briefings each morning after roll call. Since there may not be time to return to the Ibis or Aloft hotels in the afternoons, it is recommended that you carry with you each day in your conference bag, everything you will need during the day. You will be able to change at the Marina.

Do not forget any medications you may need during your stay; your prescriptions may not be available in the USA.

SEE YOU ALL VERY SOON!
